V. Assessing Student's Competency: Supervision Procedures

The supervisor should preferably have the same training/background as the student, when that student is involved in direct care and treatment of clients. If this is not possible, an additional supervisor from the educational institution who does have the same training/background should be involved.

Students are assessed to ensure that they are competent to provide service prior to being permitted to see clients on their own. The Supervisor would generally first allow the student to observe staff providing service to clients, followed by the student providing service under supervision.

All students' charting should be checked daily by the supervisor until satisfied that it is done correctly.

VI. Student Conflict Resolution

In the event of conflicts between student & supervisor or other individuals at the Centre, every attempt will be made to provide conflict mediation towards a resolution to the problem with the educational institution included in process.

The Organization has a strong belief in and commitment to a participatory and team approach. Each employee, student and/or volunteer is valued for his/her contribution. They are encouraged to make suggestions, comment and policy and procedures and be involved in planning wherever possible.

If there is conflict between any employees, students and/or volunteers, they should first try to resolve the problem with the person directly by setting up a time to meet with them to review the issue and come to some resolution.

If the problem is not resolved the person will discuss the problem with his/her immediate supervisor.

The supervisor will work with the employees, students, and/or volunteers involved in the conflict to try to come to some resolution.

If the problem is not resolved, the supervisor will discuss the problem with the Executive Director. The Executive Director will meet with the employees, students, or volunteers involved, facilitating a resolution to the problem.

Students must adhere to BCCHC's anti-discrimination policy at all times.
